

BLOODY WEEK IN TENNESSEE

Several Men Shot to Death for Various Reasons and One Woman Murdered.

Knoxville, Tenn., Dec. 25.—Christmas week in the eastern section of Tennessee has been an unusually bloody one. At Newport, Tenn., today Robert Knowles, a special policeman, tried to arrest William Allen for drunkenness. Knowles shot Allen through the body. Allen lived two hours, and then died. Near Del Rio, Tenn., Isaac Murray and Lake Norton, brothers-in-law, shot each other to death, using pistols and shotguns. Norton, it is said, while drunk, went to Murray's house and created a disturbance. Near Strahl, Alexander Wright, who had returned from Missouri to visit his wife, who has been living with her parents near that place, called her from church and emptied his pistol in her body. She cannot live. Jealousy was the cause. Wright is still at large. At Izabella, Polk county, John Hall, it is charged, shot and killed his brother-in-law, William Crowder. A woman is mixed up in the case. Luther Wallace, aged 20, shot and killed Lee Eldridge, a prominent man of Holston valley, using a shotgun. Wallace had broken into the postoffice at Harris this morning. A warrant was placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff White, who deputized Eldridge to assist him in making the arrest. Wallace surprised the two men, and after killing Eldridge made his escape.

and medical transports placed under the surgeon general of the army, and have remained so up to the present time.

"The Japanese naval hospital ships, which are directly responsible for the care of the sick and injured of the services."

"Naval medical officers have had positive rank for years, given them." "An act of congress, but as the use of titles which indicates rank, has been denied them, it is not generally known. They also have the right to command in their own corps, and all those who are entrusted to their care, whether on the sick list, in the hospitals or on hospital ships."

"I have contended that hospital ships should be connected in precisely the same way as the army. During war time line officers cannot be spared and do not, and should not, desire the command of these ships, and it has always been considered a doubtful question if the Geneva and The Hague agreements could guarantee the neutrality of these ships if combatant (line) officers and crews were aboard."

"The bureau of medicine and surgery is directly responsible for the welfare of the health of the navy, and every friend and relative looks to it for the care of the sick and wounded. This work should have the sympathy and active support of every one."

"The internal administration of the bureau of medicine and surgery has been in my opinion, too much interfered with by the bureau of navigation."

"The interference has at times caused me grave concern as to how I could meet the needs of those under our care. At present the hospital ship Relief would be in commission, and after having done good service with the fleet before starting, would have accompanied it on the cruise south. The bureau of navigation thought otherwise, and the fleet of 15,000 men, with its auxiliaries, would have to wait until the ship arrived at Magdalena bay, more than three months from now."

What Rixey Wanted.

"I have only asked that the Relief be put in commission just as every other hospital ship has been, and that the navy medical officer be given exactly the same status as that accorded to his brother officers in the army, who have commanded this identical ship. Not to do this would be unfair to our medical officers."

"As this is a matter pertaining entirely to the bureau of medicine and surgery and is decided by the secretary of the navy, it is hard to understand how Admiral Brownson could be specially involved in his duties pertaining to another bureau, not directly responsible for the care of the sick of the navy, and in which he should not interfere unless directed by the secretary."

Surgeon General Rixey's statement was shown to Admiral Brownson tonight, but he declined to make any comment whatever in regard to it.

BIG DINNER FOR THE POOR

American Newspaper in Mexico City Started the Movement With Happy Results.
Mexico City, Dec. 25.—For the first time in the history of this capital, Christmas day was marked by a great dinner to the poor. The day was an ideal one. At dawn 10,000 of the city's poor were at the entrance of the Toluca, where the feast was to be given four hours later. When the gates were thrown open the hundreds of tables were filled in less than ten minutes. Two military bands and three orchestras were distributed about the immense garden.

Governor Irujo y Escandol presided. A giant Christmas tree, upon which 10,000 toys were hung, was one of the features of the occasion. Each child at the dinner was given a toy. The dinner was inaugurated by the Mexican Daily Record, an American newspaper, and El Imperial, and other Mexican daily papers assisted in the cause.

NEGROES GETTING OUT OF OKLAHOMA TOWN

Muskogee, Okla., Dec. 25.—Negroes are rapidly leaving Henryetta, where the lynching of James Garden, a negro, occurred yesterday, following the murder of Albert Bates, a prominent white citizen. The negroes were given notice to get out of the town within forty-eight hours. A second attack was made on the jail early this morning by a mob of citizens, who sought a one-eyed negro named Bill Smith, charged with inciting Garden to commit crime. Sheriff Robertson, however, spirited the man away from the mob and took him to Okmulgee. Jim Johnson, a new York creditor, recently resigned as president of the bank, and his resignation was followed by an examination of the bank's resources and New Orleans clearing house association.

AMUSEMENTS

Isabel Irving presented at the Salt Lake theatre last night to a tremendous Christmas audience, her new Clyde Fitch play, "The Girl Who Has Everything." Mr. Fitch was fortunate in playing the play with Miss Irving. The surprising thing is that Miss Irving thought enough of it to take it out. "The Girl Who Has Everything" is about Mr. Fitch's worst. It is a play of the future in production. The plot is impossible and much of the dialogue was written for the purpose of killing time.

The playwright asks an intelligent young woman who dearly loves a bright lawyer to believe that the lawyer has accepted her in order to secure the continuance of a suit she has brought to break a will. And this only two hours after the lawyer has assured the girl that she is sure to win the suit. He is to marry the girl, understand, and the villain's explanation of his acceptance of the bribe is that the lawyer wants the money. Yet, if he had won the suit, he was to get, through the man, the money of the girl. The lawyer, as a matter of fact, is induced to take the girl to give up the suit because, unless she does, the character of a beloved, dead sister will be blackened. The girl turns her lover away and secures another lawyer.

Miss Irving gets all anybody could out of the part of Sylvia Lang. She is so charming that she almost makes one forget the inadequate vehicle for her talents. Miss Irving is ably seconded by Harry Hilliard as Philip Waring. Mr. Hilliard is a natural, convincing and sure. Miss Emily Wakeman as Mrs. Waring and Miss Helena Weatherly as Miss Fanciful Volton, Sylvia's aunt, gave splendid delineations of quaint character parts.

The company was handicapped last night by two substitutions, that of William Strong as Guy Weems and George O'Brien as George Brown. Neither was up in his part and both suffered from nervousness. As a result almost the entire company was similarly affected.

The engaging Miss Irving runs through Saturday night and includes a matinee on Saturday.

E. J. Buckley of the "Southern Skies" company; J. A. Kennedy of the "Devil's Habit" and J. C. Drum, agent for Marie Cahill, spent Christmas in Salt Lake.

Miss Irving, who is appearing in "The Girl Who Has Everything," at the Salt Lake theatre, has been besieged with requests for photographs and autographs and the management has solved the problem by issuing to everybody who attends the Saturday night matinee, an autographed souvenir photo of Miss Irving.

"A Wife's Secret," now playing at the Grand, is one of the best melodramatic productions presented at that popular playhouse this season. Coming next Sunday is "The Girl and the Stampedee," one of the late dramatic successes.

CALEB POWERS TRIAL.
Defense Will Probably Close Its Case Today.

Georgetown, Ky., Dec. 25.—Christmas day in the Caleb Powers trial was dull, the morning being taken up with the testimony of W. R. Day, ex-state treasurer, and the reading of the deposition of Charles Finley, followed by the former testimony of the late General Day R. Miller. The defense expects to close tomorrow, and it is said the commonwealth is prepared to go on with its rebuttal testimony. It is also said that Henry Youtsey will be brought back to contradict Powers' testimony.

Judge J. R. Morton of Lexington, formerly counsel in the Powers case, testified that he was in the court of appeals when the shot was fired that killed Goebel.

NO ESCAPE
Don't let 1908 get away from you without being in your own home. There are a lot of people taking advantage of the cold weather and moving into one of the new houses we have built on Ninth avenue, paying for it on long-time payments.

There are several of the houses remaining unsold, and the beauty about securing them now is that you can get them for a great deal less than they will cost you in the spring. In the first place, the natural increase of all Salt Lake real estate values; secondly, the next extension of the street car line will be along Ninth avenue; and, thirdly, our plans are now maturing for the building of another hundred thousand dollars' worth of houses in the same vicinity.

It is easy to see why the houses will cost more later on. If you haven't seen these beautiful modern homes, ask for the key at 458 C street, and then satisfy yourself of their excellence in every respect.
